INTRODUCTION

The true prophets in the Old Testament were loyal servants of God and convinced foes of idolatry. They often risked their lives by confronting wicked kings, princes or ruler with the Word of God. They poured their souls into their pleas that sinners repent and turn back to God.

In Israel, there was a long history of individuals who served as the Lord's messengers to the nation and to the world. Abraham functioned as a prophet when he interceded for a sinner, but it was Moses whom the Lord first called and instructed in the ministerial role of a prophet (Exo. 3:1). Moses in fact was the greatest of the Old Testament prophets (Num. 12:6) and his experience as a prophet became a paradigm for later prophets as the vocabulary and relationships of the divine communication through Moses became standard for God's revelations to other true prophets (Deut. 18:15). Such terms as "send," "go," "speak," and "I will" were commonly used by the Lord to prophets, and they themselves frequently admonished their audiences to "hear" because "thus says the Lord."

Several elements often characterize the relationships between the Lord, the prophets and their hearers:

1. the authority of the Lord over both the prophets and their audiences;
2. the obedience of the prophets, though sometimes with initial protest;
3. the authority of the prophets as representatives of the sovereign God;
4. the requirement of the audience to choose covenant obedience or disobedience;
5. the report of the prophet back to the Lord in the form of prayer

The prophetic books are largely written in the style of Hebrew poetry. Although the prophets do not explain their choice of the poetic genre, it is likely they did so for at least three reasons;

1. Poetry can speak powerfully to the will and emotions; the prophets did not wish simply to inform their audiences, but to move them to action as well.
2. Poetry, with its stress on symbolism and imagery is sometimes better suited than prose to convey the wonders of God and His character which are at the heart of the prophets' messages.

3. Poetry can speak about the meaning of future events without necessarily having to describe all details literally.

The Hebrew Bible is arranged in three groups, The Law, The Prophets and The Writings (see chart below). In the second group in the Hebrew Bible, that section known as The Prophets, we have two sub-groups. The first called Former Prophets and the second called Latter Prophets. The Former and Latter Prophets are further divided into four books each for a total of eight. If you were to go to the Hebrew Bible looking for the “Minor Prophets”, you would go to the second section The Prophets, the second sub-group called Latter Prophets, and finally go to book four entitled “The Twelve”. In the third group in the Hebrew Bible, that section known as The Writings, we have three sub-groups. The first called Poetical Books, the second called Five Rolls, and the third called Historical Books. Daniel was placed in the third section of The Writings in the sub-group Historical Books.

The Hebrew Old Testament Arrangement (Masoretic Text)
The Law (Torah)	The Prophets (Nevi'im)	The Writings (Kethuvim)
Genesis	A. Former Prophets	A. Poetical Books
Exodus	1. Joshua	1. Psalms
Leviticus	2. Judges	2. Job
Numbers	3. Samuel	3. Proverbs
Deuteronomy	4. Kings	B. Five Rolls
	B. Latter Prophets	1. Ruth
	1. Isaiah	2. Song of Songs
	2. Jeremiah	3. Ecclesiastes
	3. Ezekiel	4. Lamentations
	4. The Twelve	5. Esther
		C. Historical Books
		1. Daniel
		2. Ezra-Nehemiah
		3. Chronicles

The so-called “writing prophets” have left us sixteen books. Four of these prophets – Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and Daniel – we call “Major”. Major being a reference to the length of their writing, not to their quality or importance. The remaining twelve prophets from Augustine’s time (4th century), the Latin church employed the term “Minor” because of their brevity as compared with the “Major Prophets”.

A correct study of the prophets will first seek to understand the conditions existing at the time the prophet lived. We should read the message as though we were living in that day and could make the primary applications according to the political and spiritual conditions that existed. After we understand what the meaning would have been to the prophet’s hearers, we are then able to make applications to our own day. History does have a way of repeating itself, and rich and powerful lessons can be gleaned for today as parallels are developed. Faith in God is increased by having this inspired insight into the immutability of God’s word. Wisdom will be gained by understanding the choices God would have us make when conditions are similar to those of ages past.

It is a mistake to think of the biblical prophets primarily as predictors of the future. To be sure, prediction was an essential part of their preaching, but their primary function was to call people to obedience and dependence upon God. The contents of prophetic messages were shaped by God’s covenant with His people and by the particular historical circumstance of the individual prophet. The covenant was established to make Israel a holy nation that worshiped only the one true God. But the history of Israel was characterized by persistent rebellion against God, and these rebellions had a marked impact on how the prophetic messages were framed and presented. These messages often took the form of “lawsuits” initiated by God against His people for breach of covenant. The prophetic lawsuit typically included:

1. arraignment in the divine court;
2. accusations
3. pronouncement of judicial sentence
4. description of coming punishment
5. promise of restoration

WHO ARE THE PROPHETS?

- A. Five Classes Of Instructors Under The Old Covenant
1. Moses - Neh. 8:1,14; 9:13-14; Jn. 1:17; 7:19
  2. Wise Men - 2 Sam. 14:1; 20:16
  3. Priest - Lev. 10:8; Hos. 4:6; Eze. 22:26; Mal. 2:7
  4. Prophets
  5. Psalmists
- B. A “Prophet” Was A Spokesman For Another
1. Literally “to boil up like a fountain.”
Under the influence of the Holy Spirit a prophet was the spokesman of God. – Ex. 3:1; Heb. 1:1; 2 Pet. 1:21; Deut. 18:9
  2. Other names for a prophet:
    - a. Seer – 1 Sam. 9:9
    - b. Man of God – 1 Sam. 9:6; 1 Kgs. 17:18
    - c. Servant of God – 1 Chr. 6:49; 1 Kgs. 18:36
    - d. Messenger – Isa. 42:19
    - e. Watchman – Eze. 3:17; 33:7
  3. The prophet was an individual who had something to say and had to say it - Jer. 20:7
  4. When a prophet spoke by God’s direction, the words came to pass!
– Deut. 18:15; Isa. 46:9
  5. They did often foretell events, and this is one of the strongest proofs of inspiration. - Isa. 42:9; 44:6
- C. Numerous Figures Are Called Prophets
1. Abraham – Gen. 20:7
  2. Moses – Deut. 18:15; 34:10
  3. Deborah – Jdg. 4:4
  4. Miriam – Exo. 15:20
  5. “sons of the prophets” – 1 Sam. 10:5; 19:18; 1 Kgs. 18:13; 22:6
  6. Samuel – Acts 3:24

HOW CAN WE UNDERSTAND THE MESSAGE OF THE PROPHETS?

A. Three Truths To Keep In Mind.

1. Understand the political, moral, social, and religious conditions at the time the prophet lived.
  - a. How is the message relevant for the people of that day.
  - b. Secondary fulfillment of prophecy is often found in the New Testament.
This can be understood only when applied by inspired writers of the New Testament.
  - c. All applications to modern day occurrences must be carefully harmonized in light of New Testament revelation.
2. Understand God's relation to the heathen nations.
  - a. The prophets often reveal how God directs their destiny.
  - b. The prophets often reveal how God judges them
3. Understand the teaching of the coming king and kingdom, the true hope of the future. - Acts 26:6; 28:20
  - a. The purpose of the prophets was to save God's people from idolatry and wickedness.
  - b. The purpose of the prophets was to pronounce the judgment from God and destruction of the nation.
  - c. The purpose of the prophets was to remind God's people of the remnant from the seed of David.

B. Some Of The Themes Developed By The Prophets.

1. Holiness of God. - He is absolutely pure, righteous, just, merciful, tender, loving and longsuffering.
2. Sovereignty of God. - He rules the universe and is above all, through all, and in all
3. Immutability of God's Word. - He carries out His promise. One can depend on Him to act consistently with His word.
4. Sin. - God abhors iniquity and will not tolerate, overlook, nor excuse it, but He will forgive the penitent.

5. Repentance and Righteousness. - This is the call of the prophets. Though severe is God's punishment upon the wicked, yet great in mercy His loving kindness upon the righteous who are of broken spirit and contrite heart.
6. Worship. - The proper reverence, awe, and respect for God will cause one always to have praise and thanksgiving on his lips.

In our study of the "Minor Prophets", we will consider a few basic elements.

1. We will first get background information (who, what, when, where, why).
2. We will spend time developing the theme of the book. The theme will entail reoccurring thoughts, words or ideas within that book. By understanding the theme, we understand the main purpose.
3. We will have an outline for helping us as we read each paragraph.
4. We will then have questions pertaining directly to that particular book or section.
5. We will have a whole class on application of the book to our time, taking the things of that day and applying them to ourselves, our nation and / or the church.

TO EDOM (845 BC)

OBADIAH

“Servant of Jehovah”

BACKGROUND

The hatred Edom held for their blood brothers, Israel, goes back to the time when their father Esau was born. (Gen. 25:22; 27; 32; 33)

The Edomites dwelt in Mt. Seir at the south end of the Dead Sea. This territory is also referred to as Idumea. They constantly showed indignation against Israel, even refusing simple passages through their land when Israel first came from Egyptian captivity (Num. 20:14).

The pride of Edom and the perpetual hatred for God’s people brought the wrath of the Lord against this land. Even in later years Edom stood ready to rejoice over every setback endured by Israel and Judah, never helping but always gloating.

The history of the Edomites continued through the period of the Herods. The father of Herod the Great was Antipater from Idumea. However, after the destruction of Jerusalem in 70 AD, the Idumeans disappeared from history – a certain fulfillment of the prophecies of Obadiah, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and others.

DATE

The book is undated. The principal clue to the date of its writing is in verses 11, 14. “In the day that you stood on the other side” alludes to the events of 2 Kings 8:20, 2 Chr. 21:16, when the Edomites and others rebelled against King Jehoram early in the ninth century.

If the reference is to Psalm 137:7; 2 Chr. 36:20; Eze. 25:13, the prophecy would be later than 586 BC.

The more likely view is that 2 Chr. 28:16 is the reference and that the time was mid eighth century, during the reign of Ahaz of Judah. This would be the time when Edom and the Philistines were associated in warfare against Judah. Internal evidences supporting this idea for both nations are listed in Obadiah 19.

The date supported by this author is 845 BC.

AUTHOR

The name of several Old Testament characters:

1. The governor of Ahab's household who "feared Jehovah greatly" but who seemed to fear Ahab even more.
1 Kings 18:3
2. Head of a household of David's descendants
1 Chr. 3:21
3. A chief man of Issachar in David's time
1 Chr. 7:3
4. One of the six sons of Azel, a Benjamite
1 Chr. 8:38
5. A Levite who returned early from captivity.
1 Chr. 9:16
6. One of the marital Gadites who joined David in the wilderness.
1 Chr. 12:9
7. Father of Ishmaiah, a prince of Zebulun in the days of David
1 Chr. 27:19
8. One of the five princes of Judah whom Jehoshaphat sent out to teach the people of Judah the law of the Lord
2 Chr. 17:7
9. A Levite of the Merarite family, whom Josiah made an overseer of repairing the temple
2 Chr. 34:12
10. A Jew who led back 218 men in Ezra's return from captivity.
Ezra 8:9
11. A priestly covenanter with Nehemiah
Neh. 10:5
12. A gate-keeper of Jerusalem in Nehemiah's time
Neh. 12:25
13. The prophet who wrote the book of Obadiah

THEME

The message of Obadiah is twofold; 1) the fall of Edom because of its pride and cruelty against Israel, and 2) the exaltation of Zion when Seir, the Edomite counterpart of Zion, would be cast down. The rescued of both Israel and Edom will be in Zion, for in it the redeemed will be found.

LESSONS FROM OBADIAH

- Pride goes before a fall
- Pride blinds one to his own mistakes
- Mistreatment of others may reap temporary victories, but it will eventually be repaid
- Improper attitudes toward your brother will bring destruction
- One cannot passively stand by while another is being oppressed
- God will accept the penitent
- As one sows, so will he also reap

TO JUDAH (830 BC)

JOEL

“Jehovah is God”

BACKGROUND

The prophecy was occasioned by a calamity that befell the land from locusts and drought and from fires that followed in their wake. Some think the locusts were an invading army, and that the prophet used the terror of swarms of locusts, followed by drought and fire, as a figurative description of the devastation left by the invaders. The stronger possibility is that these were literal locusts from which the prophet draws his lesson and his strong call to repentance. Unless there is repentance and righteousness of life on the part of the nation, the locusts will be followed by a stronger and more severe judgment, and invasion by the nations.

A plague of locusts devastates the land of Judah, and Joel describes the locusts as an "army" of the Lord. This terrible judgment of the Lord should bring them to repentance, and if it does a promise of blessing will be forthcoming.

The theme of the book of Joel is a call to repentance. "The day of the Lord" (1:15; 2:1,11,31; 3:14) represents both a day of terror and blessings. Joel is perhaps best remembered because of Peter's affirmation on Pentecost that the outpouring of the Holy Spirit was the fulfillment of Joel's prophecy (Joel 2:28-32; Acts 2:17-21).

DATE

The date for the book of Joel is uncertain. Scholars give varying reasons for dates ranging from as early as 900 BC to as late as 400 BC.

Earlier date argument - No reference is made to Assyria (760 BC) nor to Babylon which followed. The enemies mentioned are Philistines, Phoenicians, Egyptians, and Edomites rather than those of the exile period.

Later date argument - Only Judah is mentioned and not Israel. No king is mentioned, neither the high places nor the idolatry which are all conditions of an earlier period.

AUTHOR

The name Joel means "Jehovah is God." This was a common name among the Jews. There are at least a dozen other men so named in the Bible. (Samuel's oldest son, 1 Sam. 8:2; one of David's valiant men, I Chr. 11:38). However, like Obadiah, no information exists about the man who wrote this book which bears his name. We are simply told he was "the son of Pethuel." (1:1)

THEME

The message of the book is the doom of the nations and the ultimate glory of Jehovah's cause. The invading locust army is to be looked upon by the people of God as a warning to them, out of which came the urgent call from God for repentance. The locusts, drought, and fires heralded the "day of Jehovah," which could be averted only by genuine repentance. If they would repent, the "day of Jehovah" would be one of destruction upon the enemies of God and deliverance for those who trust in Him.

Whether an army of locusts or a literal army, it was led by Jehovah; He was directing the campaign. The book is an appeal from Jehovah to the people to seek Him through repentance. Out of this repentance there would come material blessings followed by an outpouring of spiritual blessings. Although other prophets may have intimated or indicated the coming of the Holy Spirit, Joel is the one who makes a clear prediction of His coming. Because of this prophecy, Joel is sometimes referred to as "the prophet of Pentecost."

Though the book begins in gloom, it closes with the a bright and glorious day to come.

THEME OF JOEL

REPENT!

(1:5-7; 12-14; 2:12-15; 2:17; 3:4-7)

For “The Day Of The Lord”

(1:2, 15; 2:1-2, 11, 31, 3:14, 18)

is coming and will bring

Yet even now, declares the Lord,
'return to Me with all your heart, and with fasting, weeping, and mourning, and rend your heart and not your garments'
now return to the Lord your God,
for He is gracious and compassionate, slow to anger,
abounding in lovingkindness, and relenting of evil

OUTLINE OF JOEL

  - a.
  - b.
21. What will happen to Egypt in that day?
Edom?
Why will this happen to them?
22. What will happen to Judah? Why?

LESSONS FROM JOEL

- The externals of religion are not to be regarded lightly
- God desires a broken heart
- Calamity tends to turn men and make them more willing to hear
- Those who live in sinful rebellion to God should tremble at the judgment coming
- God is merciful to all
- God will render just and severe judgment to those who refuse to obey
- The outpouring of the Spirit confirmed on Pentecost the Messianic age spoken of by the prophets
- God's people are under His protection and need not fear even in times of persecution

TO NINEVEH (790 - 780 BC)

JONAH

“Dove”

BACKGROUND

Jonah was told to go to the Gentile city of Nineveh which was approximately 500 miles northeast of Palestine. Nineveh was the capital of Assyria a rising world power which was feared by all because of its ruthlessness. Eventually this brutal nation conquered Israel, and led Samaria captive in 722 BC.

Jonah explained why he did not want to go to Nineveh in chapter 4:3. It was not the distance because he caught a ship headed for Tarshish 2,000 miles in the opposite direction. Jonah wished to leave these enemies of God's people to their own doom.

Modern theologians have long acclaimed the book of Jonah as a myth, allegory, or parable. Unbelievers discredit the book because it reveals that which is miraculous. But when they mock the possibility of the story of Jonah and the whale as though it were a fairy tale, they reveal their own unbelief in the power of God and the integrity of the scriptures as a whole.

Three basic reasons argue for its authenticity.

1. An unprejudiced reading of the book reveals nothing to suggest anything other than the narrative was intended as an historical record of an actual fact.
2. The Jews who first received the book accepted its historicity and included it without doubt as belonging in the canon of Hebrew scriptures. Why would they accept a story that stressed mercy to the Gentiles, especially so, if it were based on a myth?
3. Jesus Christ confirmed the story of Jonah and regarded it as much an historical fact as His own resurrection. To accept one is to accept the other, and vice versa, Mt. 12:39; Lk. 11:29; Mt. 16:4.

DATE

In 2 Kings 14:23-27 fixes the time of Jonah during the later years of Amaziah, king of Judah, and during the earlier years of Jeroboam II, probably from 790 - 780 BC. This would also place him at the time near the end of Elisha's ministry.

AUTHOR

The opening verse describes Jonah as "the son of Amittai." According to 2 Kings 14:25 this places him during the reign of Jeroboam II who reigned over the northern ten tribes of Israel for forty-one years.

THEME

The message of the book is twofold: 1. God is willing and anxious to save even the heathen nations if they repent. His love is infinite and universal; therefore, His concern is for all. 2. Jehovah is the one universal God, the God of the whole earth. As the one and only God, He is the God to whom the heathen must turn.

In the book one sees a foreshadowing of the coming of Christ and the manifestation of God's love and desire to save all men. The death and resurrection of Christ are typified in the three days spent by Jonah in the belly of the great fish.

The book is sometimes referred to as the forerunner of the universal gospel message which would be carried to all the heathen world.

THEME OF JONAH

An Exposition on the GREATNESS of God

True Greatness – 15X
Belongs to the Lord – 24X
The God – 13X – of the universe

---

---

His Greatness is seen in:
His treatment of the pagan city,
His control over nature, and
His compassion toward the prophet

TO ISRAEL (750-725 BC)

HOSEA

“Salvation”

BACKGROUND

Read 1 Kings 14-17 and 2 Chr. 26-29 as a background to the book.

Hosea summed up the indictments against Israel in the one word "whoredom." Israel had done worse than adultery; as a harlot she had prostituted herself before the baalim of the land for hire (2:12-13). The people were without knowledge (4:6; 5:4), and as a result they were ignorant of God and His laws (8:12). Nominally they paid homage to Jehovah, but in reality they honored the baalim. This sin brought Hosea's most severe rebukes. The people were victims of two systems of false religion: the calf worship introduced by Jeroboam I, and Baal worship stressed by Ahab and Jezebel. Each was completely foreign to the revealed religion of the Lord Jehovah. Each was the fruit of apostasy.

The key to understanding the book of Hosea is the analogy between Hosea's experience with Gomer and the Lord's experience with Israel. Hosea was a living example of the lesson intended. The tender loving God was offering one last chance of restoration to Israel which had committed spiritual adultery. Out of his own experience Hosea came to understand as none other could the feelings of the Lord for Israel.

The righteousness of God is portrayed in Hosea. Although doom of the wicked nation of Israel is announced, Hosea often speaks of the lovingkindness of the Lord. God loved His people, but Israel had sown to the wind and deserved to reap the whirlwind (8:7).

Their conduct was the very opposite to that which God desired and demanded. The people were guilty of swearing, breaking faith, murder, stealing, committing adultery, deceit, lying, drunkenness, dishonesty in business, and other crimes equally abominable before Jehovah. The picture painted in the Book of Hosea is truly that of a nation in decay.

Hosea is quoted several times in the N.T.: (1:10; 2:23) Rom. 9:25; 1 Pet. 2:10; (6:6) Matt. 9:13; 12:7; (11:1) Matt. 2:15; and (10:8) Luke 23:30; Rev. 6:16.

DATE

The date for Hosea's prophecy is probably from 750-725 BC. This time period is derived from the kings listed in 1:1. If he began his ministry in the last days of Jeroboam II, king of Israel, and continued his work until the early days of Hezekiah, king of Judah, these dates would fit.

AUTHOR

The name Hosea means "salvation." The names Joshua (Num. 13:16) and Jesus (Mt. 1:21) are derived from the same Hebrew word. Hosea's father was named Beerli (1:1), but we know nothing more about his personal family or background.

THEME

Hosea's message emphasizes the righteousness of Jehovah: God is love. This great principle is emphasized throughout his prophecy. A favorite expression of the prophet is "lovingkindness." He has been called the prophet of love (Knudson), as well as the prophet of the broken heart (Sampey). God loved His people, and time upon time He had demonstrated this love. Love is the mainspring of God's actions. Hosea had come to grasp this aspect of the character of the divine Father which motivated Him in His actions toward His wayward children. Hosea expressed it as none before him had done.

The doom of the nation is inevitable. Although his message is that of the righteousness of Jehovah, it is also a message of the doom of Israel. Hosea stressed the imminence of danger and divine judgment. Hosea's appeal to the threat of this danger was intended to arouse the nation to a religious consciousness. "A religion which makes no appeal to the sense of danger has no edge to it. It has no power to grip the basal impulses of life. It is simply a meaningless sentiment, a worthless survival of some vital religious movement of the past." (Knudson, p. 109). "I will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease" (1:4) was Jehovah's threat of doom to the nation in spiritual and moral dissolution.

TO ISRAEL (760 - 750 BC)

AMOS

“Burden Bearer”

BACKGROUND

Israel was at the zenith of power economically and politically. Business was booming, and the material prosperity of the age led to a spirit of self-sufficiency and smug complacency (6:1). Consequently, Israel had become a nation which ruled God out.

Hosea was a younger contemporary of Amos as was Isaiah who was even younger.

The message of Amos is directed primarily to Israel, the northern kingdom. However, the opening words include a condemnation of the neighboring heathen nations.

The central theme of the book is "woe" unto those who rule God out. Amos preached doom because of the sinfulness both of the heathen nations as well as God's covenant people (5:27; 9:8).

Amos is quoted twice in the New Testament: Acts 7:42-43 (5:22-27) and Acts 15:16-17 (9:11-12).

Background reading for this period: 2 Kings 14:23-29; 15:1-7; 2 Chr. 26.

DATE

Amos wrote this prophecy near the end of the reign of Jeroboam II, around 760 BC. He dates his activity (1:1) as being during the reigns of Uzziah (called Azariah in 2 Kings 15:1), King of Judah (787-735 BC) and Jeroboam II, King of Israel (790-749 BC).

AUTHOR

"Amos," means "burden-bearer." He was a native of Tekoa a small village which is twelve miles south of Jerusalem and six miles south of Bethlehem. Amos was a herdsman of sheep and a grower of sycamore figs (1:1; 7:14).

THEME

The Lord had brought the people out of Egypt by His hand and had given them the land. He had driven out the inhabitants of Canaan before them. He had sent the blessings, the rain and the harvests, upon them. But in spite of all this, they had failed Him. Instead of worship, adoration and righteousness, and instead of love and concern for one another, they had become cruel, selfish, and rebellious.

Israel had been deceived by the things God had done for them. Israel had concluded that since He was their God and they His people, and since they had been so extravagant in their offering and worship, surely He would favor them.

Now they must be taught. Israel must learn that Jehovah is a God of righteousness, and holiness, and that insulting such righteousness and holiness must result in a stern expression of justice. The doom of national exile was not the only remedy for their complete and flagrant apostasy. The full import of this judgment cannot be realized until one understands two important facts; 1. To the Jew, the nation overshadowed the individual. It was through the nation and its relation to God that the individual entered into fellowship with Jehovah. 2. To the Jew every nation outside his own was unclean. In a foreign land he could not worship Jehovah acceptably.

LESSONS FROM AMOS

- Justice between man and man is one of the foundations of society
- Nations and individuals that have been favored are laden with corresponding responsibility
- Ease, luxury and idleness lead to open sin
- We are bound to live up to the light and knowledge granted us
- The most elaborate worship is but an insult to God when offered by those who have no mind to conform to His commandments
- The child of God must be motivated by personal conviction
- It does matter what we do as well as why we do it
- Agreement with God will have the effect of obedience in our lives
- When one rejects the love of the truth, time may come when he will seek it but cannot find it

TO JUDAH (735- 700 BC)

MICAH

“Who is like Jehovah”

BACKGROUND

Read 2 Kings 15:17-20:21 and 2 Chronicles 26-30 to learn about the political setting for the book.

Through unusual leadership in successful wars and in the revival of commerce and the development of agriculture, Uzziah had brought a degree of prosperity to the people of Judah that had not been enjoyed since the days of Solomon. This prosperity brought with it the usual attendant social evils and spiritual falling away from Jehovah. Uzziah was succeeded by his son Jotham, a good man who followed the policies of his father.

Socially and morally Judah presented a dark picture during the latter part of the eighth century. Rulers sold the rights of men and vested interests gained control of the lands, taking away the privileges of the people. The wealthy coveted the lands and robbed the poor, casting women out of their possessions. Corrupt business ethics were practiced. The people were under the powerful control of false prophets who prophesied for reward and priests who taught for hire. Rulers in their greed were as cannibals, and judges judged for a bribe. The corrupt concept of Jehovah held by the people was little different from the heathen concept of their gods; they kept the statues of Omri and walked in the counsels of Omri and Ahab.

Religion had become a matter of form with the people; ceremonial observances were thought to meet all religious requirements. The reform of Hezekiah (2 Chr. 29) was not from the deep recesses of the heart. There was widespread misapprehension that as long as the external acts of worship were scrupulously performed the people were entitled to the divine favor and protection. Religious fervor was too superficial to bring permanent results.

The book of Micah is perhaps best remembered because of the prophecies about the birthplace of Christ (5:2 - Mt. 2:6) and of the beginning place of the new kingdom (4:1-2 - Acts 2).

Two passages from Micah are quoted in the New Testament: (5:2) Mt. 2:5; Jn. 7:42; and (7:6) Mt. 10:35; Lk. 12:53. Micah is quoted once in the Old Testament (3:12) Jer. 26:18.

DATE

Micah began prophesying before the fall of Samaria (1:5) and continued into the reign of Hezekiah (1:1). The most probable date for his work is 735-700 BC.

AUTHOR

The name "Micah" means "Who is like unto Jehovah"? Nothing is known about his family or occupation. We are told that he was from Moresheth-gath (1:1,14) which was a small village some twenty-five miles southwest of Jerusalem on the border between Judah and Philistia. Perhaps these roots made him keenly aware of the needs of the poor and downtrodden, and he fearlessly attacked those who had obtained their affluence through unjust dealings with the poor.

Micah was a younger contemporary of Isaiah, and there may have been a close personal relationship between the two. We remember Isaiah as a "city" prophet who was in contact with world affairs and was the associate of kings and princes. However, Micah spoke to the "country" people and took special interest in the spiritual and moral affairs which directly affected them.

Micah was a prophet mainly to Judah though his messages did involve Israel also (1:1; 3:8).

THEME

The main theme of the book of Micah is that God will send judgment because of Judah's sin. The call to "hearken" or "hear" begins three chapters (1, 3, 6).

Micah's message was one mainly for his own day as indicated by his name, "Who is like unto Jehovah?" (7:18). The message of the book is directed against various evils: moral corruption (2:1-2; 3:1-2); idolatry (1:7; 5:12-15; 6:16); form-only religion (6:6-8); false prophets (3:5-7); and covetous priests (3:11).

- The roots of pure religion are found in one's attitude and in his service
- A pure nation can only be obtained when we have pure religion within the individuals
- The God we serve is Holy and Righteous
- The Lord will not tolerate continual rebellion
- The Lord is merciful and willing to forgive the penitent
- God's Word is intended to work "good" whether it be in the form of chastening to bring about repentance or in the form of exhortation to encourage
- The Lord will reject any and all who ignore His Word

TO NINEVEH (630-612 B. C.)

NAHUM

“Consolation”

BACKGROUND

An understanding of how God used Assyria to punish sinful Israel and of Assyria's arrogant attitude can be seen in Isaiah 10:5-19 and chapters 36 and 37.

"The book of Nahum demonstrates how false is the view that, 'might makes right.' The great Assyrian Empire, of which Nineveh was the capital, boasted its might and wealth, but it did not acknowledge its sin, nor would it listen to God. The fall of such a nation was inevitable..." (Minor Prophets of Judah, by Irving L. Jensen, pg. 64, Moody Press)

The prophet does not touch upon the internal conditions in Judah and Jerusalem, but deals with Nineveh, the capital of Assyria. Assyria was expanded and exhausted by long and extensive wars. The people of her cities were never homogenous. With nothing more than trade and commerce to hold them together, the nation was bound to break up. The character of the Assyrian rulers and people in general was that of excessive cruelty.

DATE

The date assigned for Nahum falls between 663 BC and 612 BC. This time is based on his mention of the fall of Thebes (3:8-10) which had taken place in 663 BC, and on his foretelling the fall of Nineveh (2:8-10) which occurred in 612 BC. Most scholars place the date of Nahum between 630 and 612 BC.

AUTHOR

The name "Nahum" means "consolation" or "comforter." Nothing is known of his personal life except that Nahum was from a town called Elkosh (1:1), the location of which is uncertain.

THEME

The theme of the book of Nahum is the downfall of Nineveh. Jonah had preached to Nineveh over a hundred years earlier, and the city was spared because it repented. God now sends another prophet who pronounces doom on the city.

THEME OF NAHUM

Nineveh is receiving her final Message:

“behold, I am against you,”

declares the Lord of Hosts.

(2:13; 3:5)

To Nineveh the Lord Says:

The LORD has issued a command concerning you:

“Your name will no longer be perpetuated.

I will cut off idol and image From the house of your gods.

I will prepare your grave, For you are contemptible.”

(Nahum 1:14)

To Judah the Lord Says:

Behold, on the mountains the feet of him who brings good news,
Who announces peace!

Celebrate your feasts, O Judah; Pay your vows.

For never again will the wicked one pass through you;

He is cut off completely.

(Nahum 1:15)

LESSONS FROM NAHUM

- The Lord rules in the kingdoms of men
- The Lord is a stronghold in time of trouble for those who turn to Him
- A correct view of the Lord is essential
- There is no place of safety when the Lord determines to punish the wicked
- There is an end to the patience of the Lord
- The wages of sin is death

TO JUDAH (630-625 BC)

ZEPHANIAH

“Jehovah Hides”

BACKGROUND

Read 2 Chronicles 33, 34, 35 and 2 Kings 21, 22, 23 for the historical background for the period of Zephaniah.

Hezekiah was succeeded by his son Manasseh, a lad of twelve. It is doubtful that at any period of its history Judah had a more wicked ruler than Manasseh. He sought to undo all the good his father had done. He rebuilt the high places, reared altars to Baal and Ashtoreth, and built altars to the host of heaven. He committed the abomination of making his son pass through the fire. To all this he added the sin of bloodshed, filling Jerusalem with innocent blood. Under his reign the heathen party gained control of the government. Later Manasseh tried to correct the wickedness of his earlier years, but apparently without success. Ammon succeeded Manasseh who followed in the steps of his father.

Josiah was the last good king to reign over Judah. At the age of sixteen he began to seek after Jehovah, the God of his fathers. At the age of twenty he began to purge Judah. His reforms were among the most sweeping of any that were attempted by the kings who reigned over the southern kingdom. The sweeping reforms undertaken by Josiah reached their peak in the eighteenth year of his reign. The king was under prophetic influence most of his life. Jeremiah, Zephaniah, Nahum, and Habakkuk prophesied during his reign.

In spite of Josiah's reforms and his own good life, the people appear at this time to be nervous, cruel, and corrupt. Social injustice and moral corruption appear to be widespread; luxury and extravagance are seen on every hand. The baalim were still worshipped, and what worship was offered to Jehovah was little other than idolatry.

Jack P. Lewis states in his workbook on the prophets: "The most crucial question in the study of Zephaniah is that of the identity of the unnamed threatening power which is on the horizon. The prophet is quite emphatic that a nation threatens Judah, which threat he connects with the Day of the Lord." (Minor Prophets, p. 36).

DATE

He prophesied during the days of Josiah who reigned from 639 to 608 BC. It is impossible to pinpoint the exact years of Zephaniah's work, but most conservative scholars place his work within the years of 630-625 BC. This would make him contemporary with Jeremiah who began his work in 626 BC (Jer. 1:2). Also, Nahum and Habakkuk probably did their work within twenty years of the time of Zephaniah, but whether any of these prophets knew each other or worked together is not revealed within the scriptures.

AUTHOR

The name Zephaniah means "Jehovah hides." The opening verse traces his ancestry through four generations (Cushi – Gedaliah – Amariah - Hizkiah, i.e., Hezekiah), which would make him the great, great grandson of Hezekiah who was the good king of Judah during the days of Isaiah and Micah.

THEME

The theme of Zephaniah is the approaching doom which will occur at the "day of the Lord." Other prophets often used this term to describe a time of God's judgment within history as contrasted to a day at the end of history (cf. Amos 5:18; Obadiah 15; Joel 1:15; 2:1,11; 2:14). Zephaniah uses it to describe God's judgment for sin and sees it falling upon both Hebrew and Gentile nations (cf. 1:7-8,14,16,18; 2:2-3).

LESSONS FROM ZEPHANIAH

- The consequences of sin must never be neglected in preaching nor forgotten in daily living
- We must constantly stay in tune with God's Word
- While life is present, repentance is a possibility
- We must never forget that despite world events, God is in complete control
- The only true safety in life is found in "taking refuge in the name of the Lord"
- When we appease men of all religions, we show unbelief in the distinct Lordship of Jesus Christ
- Our goods will do us no good in the day of judgment
- The Lord is not far from us unless we put up barriers of indifference and sin
- The attitude of wait on the Lord has two ideas: obey the Lord's will and be patient

TO JUDAH (612-606 B. C.)

HABAKKUK

“Embrace”

BACKGROUND

The reading of 2 Chr. 36:11-21 and Jeremiah 6:9-30 will give the student a description of the conditions at the time of Habakkuk and his contemporary, Jeremiah

The spiritual condition at that time was one of wickedness, injustice, and disregard for God. Habakkuk asks, "how long" will God allow this to continue? (1:2-4). The answer given is that the Lord will send the Chaldeans against Judah (1:6). But this causes the prophet to question the justice of God. How could the Lord punish Judah by using a nation more wicked? (1:3) The answer to that question should give consolation to the people who were facing a long period of exile.

Habakkuk is written in the unique style of dialogue between God and Habakkuk. This is in contrast to other books where the prophets spoke to the people. In this conversation with God Habakkuk seeks to understand why the Lord would use an evil nation to punish His people.

See also the Introduction to Zephaniah.

DATE

The most probable date for Habakkuk's work is 612-606 BC, shortly before the Chaldeans took the first captives from Jerusalem.

AUTHOR

The name Habakkuk literally means "embrace." He describes himself as "the prophet" (1:1), but actually nothing else is known about where he lived or his background.

THEME

The theme of the book is to explain the justice of God as He rules over His people, punishing the wicked and sustaining those who "live by faith."

Jehovah was using Chaldea against wicked Judah, but Chaldea would be destroyed because of its own wickedness. God may tolerate wickedness for a season, but ultimately it must reap its just recompense.

Evil is self-destructive is stressed by Habakkuk. The Lord points out this great principle to His prophet in the five woes pronounced upon a character such as the Babylon. If the righteous will be but patient, he will survive.

Divine discipline is the key. In Job it is the suffering of the individual that is shown; in Habakkuk, it is the suffering of a nation. In both, suffering is disciplinary.

THEME OF HABAKKUK

The prophet of God wrestles with the message of doom
on Judah at the hands of the Chaldeans

Habakkuk's
Questions

“Why dost thou make me see iniquity and cause me to look on wickedness?”

1:2-4

“Why dost thou look with favor on those who deal treacherously?”

1:12-17

Jehovah's
Answer

Chaldea will soon receive their just punishment.

“Will not all of these take up a tauntsong against him ... And say, ‘Woe to him who increases what is not his ...

Indeed, you will become plunder for them.

2:6-7

Habakkuk's
Response

“I heard and my inward parts trembled ... because I must wait quietly for the day of distress, for the people to arise who will invade us ...

yet I will exult in the Lord, I will rejoice in the God of my salvation.”

3:16-19

15. This power-hungry man is like death.
What does Habakkuk say this means?
16. What is the gist of the taunt-song taken up against this man?
17. Woe to him who builds a city with ...

18. What is the answer to Habakkuk's question "What profit is the idol .... ?"
19. What should be the response when the Lord is in His Holy Temple?
20. When the Lord comes to destroy, what goes before Him?
What follows after Him?
21. Whom did God "strike and lay open?"
22. When all was heard, what was Habakkuk's response physically?
23. Despite this destruction, what did Habakkuk say he would do?

LESSONS FROM HABAKKUK

- It is ok to question God when things happen
- It is not for us to doubt that God did or is doing the right thing
- There are no guarantees that bad things will not happen to good people
- We need to never forget that God is in total control
- We may be called upon to serve Him alone
- The righteous will live by their faith

*TO THE RETURNED REMNANT (520 BC)HAGGAI
“Festival”*BACKGROUND

Read Ezra 1-6 for the historical setting of the work of Haggai.

Sixteen years earlier (536 BC), about 50,000 Jews had returned under the leadership of Zerubbabel. Their first act was to re-erect the altar and to offer burnt offerings thereon (Ezra 3:2-6). They also gathered materials for the rebuilding of the temple, which they began in the second year (Ezra 4:1-24).

God raised up the prophets Haggai and Zechariah to stir up the people from their spiritual indifference and to encourage them to complete the work which had stopped (Ezra 5:1-2). Under their preaching the work prospered, and the temple was finished "on the third day of the month Adar, which was in the sixth year of the reign of Darius" (Ezra 6:15). This would be 516 BC.

A review of important events and their dates would also be of help. (See chart at the front of this book.)

- a. 605 BC - The first captives are taken by Nebuchadnezzar,
Dan. 1:1-2
- b. 597 BC - The second group (10,000) are taken to Babylon,
2 Kings 24:10-16; Ezek. 1:1-3
- c. 586 BC - Jerusalem falls; the temple destroyed,
2 Kings 25:1-21
- d. 539 BC - Babylon falls to the Medes and Persians,

Book of Esther

Artaxerxes – 465 – 425 BC – Authorized Nehemiah to rebuild Jerusalem

Ezra 7; Book of Nehemiah

These rulers cover the period during the Books of: Ezra; Nehemiah; Esther; Haggai; Zechariah; and Malachi

DATE

Haggai dates his work as "the second year of Darius the king" (1:1) which would be 520 BC. Four oracles are dated in this book which cover a period of four months (1:1; 2:1; 2:10; 2:20).

AUTHOR

The literal meaning of the name Haggai is "festival" or "the joyous one." Nothing is known about his family or early background. He is simply called "the prophet" (Hag. 1:1). The book of Ezra confirms that he was among the first remnant of Jews to return from Babylonian captivity in 536 BC. Haggai and Zechariah were contemporaries who together motivated the Jews to complete the rebuilding of the temple (Ezra 5:1-2; 6:14-16).

THEME

The theme of the book of Haggai is: "build the temple!"

LESSONS FROM HAGGAI

- Prosperity often distracts one from being faithful
- The cure for discouragement is hard work
- The successful individual listens to ‘thus saith the lord’
- The successful individual often considers the direction his life is going
- The time to do great work is now
- Put first things first

TO THE RETURNED REMNANT (520-518 BC)ZECHARIAH“Whom Jehovah Remembers”*BACKGROUND

One should read Ezra 1-6 for the historical setting of the work of Zechariah. See also the introduction to the book of Haggai

Zechariah is linked with Ezekiel, Daniel, and Revelation as being the four books of the Bible which are apocalyptic in style. This means that much of their message was written with symbolic or figurative language.

Zechariah is highly Messianic. Many compare this book to Isaiah because these two prophets gave the most specific forecasts of the coming Messiah.

DATE

Zechariah dates his work as "the second year of Darius the king (1:1), which would be 520 BC. The final date given to his series of visions was "in the fourth year of king Darius" (7:1), which would be 518 BC.

AUTHOR

The literal meaning of the name Zechariah is "whom the Lord remembers." Twenty-nine men in the Bible bear this name. The Zechariah of our study is distinguished as being a prophet contemporary with Haggai who together encouraged the returned remnant to complete the rebuilding of the temple. He referred to himself as "the prophet" (1:1,7), the son of Berechiah and grandson of Iddo. He was of a priestly family like Jeremiah (1:1) and Ezekiel (1:3). In fact, Iddo was the chief of one of the priestly families listed among the group returning to Jerusalem from Babylon in 536 BC under the leadership of Zerubbabel (Neh. 12:4,16).

THEME

Jerusalem is represented as the dwelling place of God's people. Although He rejected them in the past, He will now again accept them and live in the midst of them once more.

Jerusalem is used in two senses: 1. The city that was rebuilt after the exiles returned from captivity . "so I have again proposed in these days to do good to Jerusalem" (8:15). 2. The city that will be the dwelling place for the Lord's people who will accept the coming King in that day. "and it will come about in that day I will pour out on the inhabitants of Jerusalem the Spirit of Grace" (12:10)

The Messiah is presented as "the Branch" or "Sprout" of David, a servant of Jehovah. He comes as a king, lowly in spirit, providing salvation for the people. He comes as a shepherd rejected, sold for the price of a wounded slave, and finally pierced for the sheep who would then be scattered. He redeems a remnant, and through Him the divine sovereignty of Jehovah is restored. The kingdom will be one of glory, with everything pertaining to it consecrated to the Lord. The heathen forces who oppose Jehovah's work will be ingloriously defeated.

THEME OF ZECHARIAH

And the LORD will possess Judah as His portion in the holy land, and will again choose Jerusalem.

LESSONS FROM ZECHARIAH

- Dynamic preaching restores drooping faith
- God will grant blessings to those who try to restore true religion
- The true glory of a people is found only in their devotion to God
- Acts of devotion are useless unless one's heart is poured out to God
- True religion is designed to become universal
- The Lord's followers should have an optimistic outlook
- The Lord wants Jerusalem to be called the "city of truth"

*TO THE RETURNED REMNANT (445-432 BC)MALACHI
“My Messenger”*BACKGROUND

For a full picture of the conditions in Judea during this period one should read Ezra chapters 7-10 and the complete book of Nehemiah.

The first contingent of exiles had returned during 536 BC, under the leadership of Zerubbabel the governor and Joshua the high priest. Encouraged by the preaching of Haggai and Zechariah, the people rebuilt the temple between 520 – 516 BC. Ezra had returned with a second group of exiles in 458 and it is thought that Zechariah had encouraged the remnant with the message of Zechariah 9-14.

The style of the book is unique to the Bible in that a didactic-dialectic method is followed. An affirmation is made followed by an interrogative objection offered by the people addressed. Then a refutation of the objection is given. There are seven such sections (1:2-3; 1:6-7; 2:10-16; 2:17; 3:7; 3:8; 3:13-14).

DATE

The exact date of Malachi is not given, but judging by the conditions with which he dealt, the time period seems to be contemporary with Nehemiah, probably about 445-432 BC.

AUTHOR

The name Malachi literally means "My Messenger." Nothing is known about the personal life of the prophet. The authenticity of his work is confirmed by many New Testament references (Mt. 11:10; 17:12; Mk. 1:2; 9:11-12; Lk. 1:17; Rom. 9:13).

THEME

Malachi's central message is faithfulness to the Lord. They had been back from Babylonian captivity for about a hundred years, and now the second and third generation descendants had begun to lose sight of serving the Lord with wholehearted zeal. Though cured of idolatry, their outward formalism was worthless. Worship was in decay as the priests had been careless about insisting on proper sacrifices (1:6-8,13; 2:9) and tithing

(3:8-10). Indifference and skepticism characterized the nation (3:14; 2:17). Furthermore, divorce and intermarriage with Gentile women was common (2:11-16).

THEME OF MALACHI

LESSONS FROM MALACHI

- Many offer to the Lord only what is convenient
- Outward form is of no value unless it is motivated by inward obedience
- Elders will be blessed of the Lord only as they fulfill their God given responsibility
- Marriage is not only a covenant with our spouses but with God
- To rob a fellow man is a sin, to rob God is unthinkable
- When Christians minimize the importance of “purposing” and giving “bountifully” we too become guilty of sin
